For Auditor.

Mr. C. C. Colson, Mail Messenger on the Richmond Branch of the L. & N. R. R., informs us that Mr. Geo. Betts, State Agent, left by fire on Monday night last, his smoke-loose with about three thousand pounds of bacon. Mr. Betts thinks it was the work of an incendiary. We sympathize with him, as it was a severe loss.

Conciliatory.

In performing the delicate duty of epitomizing the speeches made by the various county candidates at this place on last court day, for the benefit of our readers, who were not present on the eventful occasion, we indulged in a playful criticism at the expense of our young and inexperienced friend Mr. Snow; whereat, we learn, he and some of his particular friends became exceedingly wrath. We listened, like all others of the large audience, quite patiently to the speeches, but all were finally tired out. What we said about Mr. Snow, in the conclusion of our remarks, we should have said about either of his opponents, or any other candidate; or any man, boy, woman or child who might have offered to impose a third harangue upon a first audience. But for his impudence to have the "last say," Mr. Snow acquitted himself most admirably. And even his very presumption was in some respects commendable; for no young man has ever made a more vigorous and telling enunciation in this country than Archibald and we greatly admire his spirit, and the attentive conductor, Col. Phil. Rice, will handle the over the head if he doesn't before himself."

Now and then we receive letters from those who aspire to offices of honor, trust and profit with the "nobiest" request to publish the same. We look upon all such letters as an effort to obtain an announcement of their candidacy, gratis. In justice to ourselves we must and will decline to publish such letters, unless they are accompanied with money sufficient to pay for the publication of the same. Other candidates pay for such notices, and we must have an infallible rule to govern the matter. We may have referred to this before.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. V. E. Kirtley will preach in the Baptist church on Sunday at 11 o'clock, A. M.

A protracted meeting was commenced at the Presbyterian church last night and will continue during next week. Services morning and night. Preaching by Rev. W. T. McElroy.

A Washington Reporter, speaking of our townsmen, Rev. Geo. O. Barnes, says, "I have heard Clay, Webster, John Quincy Adams, and a host more of men possessing the gift of 'gab,' but over and above all, I have a weakness for the gentlemen from Lincoln."

The quarterly meeting of all the Christian Churches of Garrard county, will be held at Lancaster, in the Christian Church, on next Tuesday morning. Elders C. K. Marshall, S. H. King, J. L. Allen and Jesse Walker will be present, and perhaps Elder G. L. Sartor. A pleasant and profitable meeting is anticipated, and a large crowd will doubtless be at attendance.

HOME JOTTINGS.

"Full many a shaft at random sent Finds a mark the archer little meant."

Our grocery merchants are supplying some of the largest contingents on the Cincinnati Southern.

Some two hundred railroad carts have passed through here in the past week for the line of the Cincinnati Southern.

Ice was formed to a thickness of a quarter of an inch on Monday night. It doubtless killed a great deal of forward traffic.

We saw a man pay a five dollar bill for a four month old poodle dog, the other day, and he was said to be about as cheap at cash.

The promptness is that there was not enough ice put up in this town or vicinity to last half through the summer.

The section hands are engaged in cutting down new trees from Hanging Fork to Hall's Gap Station on the L. & N. R. R.

A handsome four-wheeled baby carriage, good and new, will be sold cheap for cash. Call at Hayden's furniture rooms.

Mr. Grayson, of Bowling Green, is Section Boss on the railroad, in place of Thos. Tivener, deceased. Mrs. Tivener, wife of deceased, still keeps the boarding house for the section hands.

Col. C. H. Rochester has returned from the South where he has been for the past several months. He is said to have come out about even on his male trade. He also disposed of some of his native wines.

T. M. Pennington has contracted with Kay Brothers to do all the masonry, on their sections of the Cincinnati Southern Railroad, 69 to 74 inclusive. He will also keep a supply store, near Cato, in Pulaski county.

W. H. Miller, Esq., candidate for Circuit Clerk, has announced that he will speak at Waggoner's tomorrow, at one o'clock, P. M. He invites his opponents to be present. A good old time is looked for, and a large crowd will be present.

Our friend Jim Sandifer, on his return from Crab Orchard, informed us that he had succeeded in making several fine negatives of the buildings and grounds at the Springs. He says the hotel is as magnificent in all appointments as any in Lexington; that the school under the superior management of Prof. Tarr and wife, is in a flourishing condition.

Every town in Central Kentucky has adopted some sort of sanitary regulations this season. Langster appointed Dr. Burdett a Health Officer, with power to cause the instant removal of all filth from the premises of private citizens, and made it his duty to dictate to the city guardians in all matters pertaining to the sanitary improvement of the public streets, alleys, etc. This is a matter that should receive some immediate attention from the authorities of our town. The physicians of Stanford have expressed a willingness to form themselves into a Health Society if the people desire it and our town officers will direct reformation in his early track without pausing.

The Bruce House has recently undergone thorough repairs. Mr. Bruce has fitted up and enlarged his public room, and made an excellent basement thereunder which can be approached from without and within. He has also engaged the services of a Mr. Coffey, from Wayne county.

It is reported that the man Andy Cummins, who escaped from the posse of Sheriff Sanders at the time Bartholin was killed, is now prowling about Mt. Vernon, pretending to bid defiance to the officers of the law. We have seen heavier and sharper dersades than Andy exhibited by a single officer.

There is not a single public road leading from the knobs to either turnpike entering Stanford, which is at all possible at this season of the year. Hence it is impossible to get wood or rails to town. Now don't we need a short turnpike, say a mile long, connecting one of the pikes?

Mr. S. M. Carson has fitted up an elegant Billiard room, two fine rosewood tables, etc. in the basement of the Vandale building, corner of Main and Broad streets. It is conducted by Mr. C. in a decent manner, and will add much to the pleasure of those who have a fondness for the exciting game.

We have twenty-four Democratic candidates for the various offices in our county—to wit: two for county Judge, one for county Attorney, four for Circuit Clerk, two for surveyor, one for Coroner, and five for Assessor. Surely these are enough for all ordinary purposes.

Mr. C. C. Colson, Mail Messenger on the Richmond Branch of the L. & N. R. R., informs us that Mr. Geo. Betts, State Agent, left by fire on Monday night last, his smoke-loose with about three thousand pounds of bacon. Mr. Betts thinks it was the work of an incendiary. We sympathize with him, as it was a severe loss.

After July 1st, the stage between this place and Lancaster will cease to run. We presume the mail, after that date, will either come from the East via the Short Line, or lay over at Lancaster for the morning train from Richmond. The first named route would suit the best. Mr. Thomas, the old contractor, seemed all of his old, and many new lines of travel.

In this connection we desire to say that for more than six months past we have published in our paper the advertisement of Dr. S. B. Collins' Optic Antidote, compounded at La Porte, Indiana. Before inserting it, we had the assurance of a valued friend, who ought to and did know, that the remedy advertised was all it claimed to be. Hence we shall continue to insert the same so long as Dr. Collins desires to pay for it.

Some of the best and most learned men and women of the country have endorsed this remedy for the opium habit, and class its efficacy along with those of vaccination, chloroform, and chloral. Jenmer has his bitter and vindictive opponents, but now the world acknowledges his discovery as one of the greatest blessings to the human family. Harvey, the learned physician, was not exempt from the maladies of mankind. So, too, Dr. Collins, the discoverer of the antiseptics and for the terrible opium habit, has his vindictive persecutors. We, in conclusion, have to assume the individual who sent us recently a scurrilous newspaper article about the private affairs of Dr. Collins, that he wasted his time and postage stamps. Moreover, we intend to manage our own affairs to suit ourselves, and shall ask neither ask nor expect any favors from him.

Now and then we receive letters from those who aspire to offices of honor, trust and profit with the "nobiest" request to publish the same.

We look upon all such letters as an effort to obtain an announcement of their candidacy, gratis.

We are informed that a firm has purchased the exclusive right to put up and sell the celebrated Crab Orchard Salts, which are made nowhere else in the world except Crab Orchard in this country. The firm will copyright their label, which will protect purchasers from fraud and imposition. It is very necessary to do this, as we are informed that thousands of pounds of other salts, almost unfit for use, are annually sold as Crab Orchard Salts.

At the United States Hotel in Louisville, on the 14th inst., to the wife of A. H. Shultz, Esq., a daughter.

Baby lamb same today—Tuesday the 2nd of May.

Coating, feather, down, etc.

Spotted, a female lamb.

A woman gave birth to a child at Glasgow, Mo., recently, which weighed only one pound and six ounces, though perfect in form, and beautiful in symmetry. It was eight and three-quarters inches long, and a moderate sized tea cup when placed over its head rested on the shoulders, hiding from view its head and neck entirely.

At the Spring dock of the Lincoln Circuit Court promises to be one of the smallest we have had for many years.

The presumption is that there was not enough ice put up in this town or vicinity to last half through the summer.
